Janky Leg BBQ Crowned First-Ever Overall Winner Of The Smithfield Classic BBQ Competition

The event took place in Nashville over Labor Day Weekend and brought together the top names in barbecue to crown the best in the categories of chicken, pork ribs, pork, and beef brisket

SMITHFIELD, Va., Sept. 10, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Smithfield® congratulates Janky Leg BBQ on taking home the overall title at the Smithfield Classic at Nissan Stadium in Nashville, Tenn. last weekend. In addition to earning the top prize, Janky Leg BBQ had an impressive performance throughout the exciting competition, placing top five in all four protein categories. At this event, 50 teams from across the country competed against top names in the sport, including Chiles Cridlin, no. 4 barbecue pitmaster in the world and no. 1 in the Mid Atlantic BBQ Association, and Darren Warth, award-winning barbecue pitmaster and owner of Iowa's Smokey D's. Competing teams impressed both judges and members of the local U.S. reserve forces with flavor-packed creations.

"This weekend, we were up against some of the most talented cook teams from across the country and it was truly a privilege to compete alongside them," said Jordan Kirkpatrick of Janky Leg BBQ. "Fortunately, all the pieces fell into place, and we had a great cook on Saturday. We couldn't be more honored to be named the first Smithfield Classic Nashville Grand Champion. We won't be coming down from this high for a while!"

In addition to Janky Leg BBQ, Smithfield also congratulates Up from the Pits BBQ for taking home the brisket title, as well as Continental Barbecue Co. for the chicken title, Blue Chip BBQ for the pork ribs title and Rub My Rack BBQ for the pork title. This competition also included a distinctive Military People's Choice Award in which members of the U.S. reserve forces had the unique opportunity to visit the participating teams' cook sites to learn more about the sport and sample Smithfield Fresh Pork Ribs from their grills as they took a turn as a judge. Indiana-based team Farmers Retreat BBQ took home this coveted prize and first Smithfield competition title of its kind.

"We're so excited to celebrate the pitmaster pros that share our passion for barbecue," said Laura Pall, senior brand manager for Smithfield at Smithfield Foods. "Congratulations to Janky Leg BBQ on their incredible win, as well as to all 50 teams for serving up some of the best barbecue Nashville's ever seen. We hope to be back again next year."

As Smithfield's first competition in Music City, the brand made this an event to remember with a high dollar prize along with making donations to local and national charities and hosting a special Military Salute dinner to thank service members for their efforts in the community over the past year. All entrance fees were donated to two worthy organizations: the Kansas City Barbecue Society Foundation, which provides scholarships to members' children, and the United Way of Greater Nashville, a major partner in the Nashville COVID-19 response.

Smithfield is proud to continue its investment in the sport of barbecue. In 2017, the brand created its Smokin' With Smithfield Grant Program, which supports sanctioned barbecue competitions and events across the country by deepening the prize pool in overall and major meat categories. In addition, the Smokin' With Smithfield Committed Cooks program, established in 2016, rewards teams who cook with Smithfield Fresh Pork products and serve as brand ambassadors during competitions.
